

The highest mortality rates were seen in the "21 days or more after first dose" category.

This group also had a very low population by May 2021, as most had received their second vaccination.

This group also had the highest percentage of people with very poor health from May 2021, giving explanation to the high mortality rates.

Source: Office for National Statistics